

MOUNT AIRY
MUSEUM of REGIONAL HISTORY
 Est. 1993

A journey into the past awaits you at the Mount Airy Museum of Regional History. Conveniently located in the heart of historic downtown Mount Airy, the museum chronicles the life and culture of the region through 35,000 square feet of permanent and regularly changing exhibits. Learn about our hometown heroes including Andy Griffith, Donna Fargo, Tommy Jarrell and Chang and Eng Bunker (the original Siamese twins), follow the great wagon road to a new life in "the Hollows" or explore our "Hands-on History" children's gallery. There is something for everyone at the Mount Airy Museum of Regional History.

Sharing the Heritage of America's Hometown

MOUNT AIRY
MUSEUM of REGIONAL HISTORY
 Est. 1993

The museum is open Tuesday thru Saturday
 10:00 am – 5:00 pm
 Seasonal hours may vary. Admission is charged
 Group tours, birthday parties and event rentals are available

Mount Airy Museum of Regional History
 Located at 301 North Main Street
 Mount Airy, North Carolina 27030

GPS Coordinates: 36.501797, -80.608559

Telephone: (336) 786-4478
 Fax: (336) 786-1666

Email: mamrh@northcarolinamuseum.org
www.northcarolinamuseum.org

