

Located in the Changing Exhibit Gallery on the 3rd Floor September 3 - December 31, 2016

This exhibition highlights some of the more common patterns found in American quilting over the last two hundred years using examples from the museum's collection and quilts on loan from the community.

