Museum's Holiday Open House

In a day and age when finding something free to do is hard to come by, the Mount Airy Museum of Regional History opened its doors on Sunday afternoon for its annual Holiday Open House.

There was free music and food at the event, which is always well attended, according to the museum's Executive Director Matt Edwards.

Read more: Mount Airy News - Visitors from near and far attend Holiday Open House at museum